RICHELIEU TO DEBUT PRACTICAL, STYLISH AND ACCESSIBLE INNOVATIONS AT KBIS 2026

Design-forward hardware, storage, lighting and surfacing solutions redefine versatility for modern living

(Montreal, Canada, February 10, 2026) Richelieu Hardware will unveil a dynamic lineup of design-forward innovations at the 2026 Kitchen & Bath Industry Show (KBIS), taking place February 17-19 in Orlando, Fla. As North America's premier kitchen and bath trade show, KBIS brings together the industry's leading design professionals and manufacturers. At the show, Richelieu will showcase cutting-edge hardware systems, decorative panels and organizational solutions designed to shape the future of kitchen and bath design.

Versatility is a key focus for Richelieu's newest product introductions. From a kitchen cabinet that rotates 360-degrees – allowing contents to be concealed or displayed on demand – to a collapsible, compact table that effortlessly creates space for work, dining or entertaining, each innovation is thoughtfully engineered to adapt to today's modern lifestyles. Richelieu's new offerings deliver versatile storage solutions for the entire home alongside purpose-driven designs for individuals with reduced mobility, elevating comfort, efficiency, and quality of life.

ACCESSIBILITY INNOVATION

Through a new collaboration with Granberg, a renowned European manufacturer of accessible kitchen and living solutions, the company now offers the VERTI 840 motorized lift for upper cabinets. A finalist for the prestigious "Best of KBIS" awards in the "Wellness Trailblazer" category, VERTI 840 helps users avoid stretching and straining. With a simple touch, the smart electric height-adjustable lift system smoothly, silently and safely brings cabinet shelves down to countertop level. Designed to integrate seamlessly into virtually any kitchen, VERTI 840 exemplifies Richelieu's commitment to creating modern kitchens that are more ergonomic, flexible and universally accessible.

DECORATIVE HARDWARE COLLECTIONS

Designed by Gianmarco Codato and Luciano Trevisiol, the Atipica designer hardware collection lets designers add character and identity to any project. Derived from the Italian word for "atypical," Atipica is defined by eccentric geometric shapes and textures. The collection is a finalist for the "Best of KBIS" awards in the "Style Statement: Kitchen" category.

Richelieu's U-Design turns a small detail into a personal expression of style. Fill its clear acrylic tube with confetti, beads or other tiny treasures that capture your most cherished memories and tell your story. More than just hardware, it's the start of a design journey only you can create.

Defined by its ultra-slim profile, the Unicolor collection showcases refined Italian design with softly rounded corners for a comfortable, unobtrusive grip. Available in two sizes, finishes include the new Lecco Green and Agatha pink, which add a punch of color to modern design.
